Meet KYM DURHAM Psychic Medium

HAVE YOU EVER TAKEN THE TIME TO THINK ABOUT YOUR OWN ABILITIES? What your gifts are and how they may help another in your community and beyond? Webster defines the word “ability” as the quality or state of being, competence in doing something (a skill), or a natural aptitude or acquired proficiency. There are abilities that we are born with such as being a quick learner, a critical thinker, perhaps working well on a team. But what if you were born with the heightened ability to communicate with the spirit world?

Recently, Collingswood Living had the opportunity to sit down with Kym Durham, your neighbor, but also renowned and critically acclaimed psychic medium. While chatting with Kym she shared with us that she is a second generation Psychic / Intuitive Medium and formally an orthopedic and cardiac Operating Room Nurse. Kym has hung up her stethoscope and dedicated herself full-time to the family business her mother began over 50 years ago. Kym is clairaudient, clairvoyant, and clairsentient. This means she has the unique ability to see, hear, and feel those that have crossed over.

Kym told us that it all started with her mom, Joan Friel Durham, a famous Psychic Medium herself who started her business PSI (Psychic Studies and Investigations) in 1972. Kym describes growing up in a home with a mother as a psychic medium as “interesting” to say the least and jokes, “let’s just say there wasn’t much my brothers and I could get away with”.

Her own personal journey to becoming a Psychic / Intuitive Medium began at the age of 4. She recalls seeing spirits who were there to visit with her mom’s clients, “I lovingly say that they just popped up to say hello,” says Kym. Growing up in the Durham household this all seemed very normal to Kym as it’s all she had ever known.

Joan was known to have a very nurturing manner when it came to encouraging Kym to foster and grow her own extrasensory gifts. When Kym was 11 she sought refuge in her mom’s office only to see a client with an orange hue on the left arm and chest. When Kym relayed what she saw, her mother would say “tell me more Kymmie.” She can see these “hot spots” where there has been healing and “dark spots” on a person’s body where there needs to be healing. Kym breaks down her ability into three aspects: energy on people, energy in places, and energy of opportunity.

For instance, Kym learned that the client had undergone a mastectomy 9 months prior, so what Kym was seeing (the orange hue) was healing energy. From there, Kym started honing her skills as a medical intuitive. She is able to see the energy on a person, but makes it known she is of course not a medical doctor and cannot make any type of diagnosis. However, her background as an RNFA (registered nurse first assist), only enhances her abilities and allows her to further explain the energy she is seeing. Her psychic abilities help validate what a client may be going through or will go through.

Recently, Kym sat with a client who met and married her husband. When the client came to her, She said, “Kym I want to have a baby and start a family.” Kym was able to see that the client would have a baby at the age of 41. But, she also saw that the client's left ovary was tucked behind her uterus. Kym's background in anatomy and physiology allowed her to accurately convey the issues this client would face the next few years. Ultimately the client did conceive and had her first child this past October at the age of 41.

How does Kym see this information? She describes it as having an iPad over someone's shoulder with dates, names, and places. She gets psychic impressions that come up when she talks or sits with someone. At the core, Kym's ability is energy work, allowing her to feel and see the energy in a physical space like a home or business. Kym can also see the energy in a space where there was previous water damage or issues with the ground or even the building itself. Another part of her skill set is being able to see opportunities like a scene that plays out for her with dates and names.

As a medium, Kym receives energy. She can hear, see, and feel those that have crossed over. Sometimes it's just two senses, other times it's all three. Kym works off of each person's energy, so she recommends to her clients that they come to her well rested and hydrated. She refers to herself as a conduit; acting as the link between those that crossed to her client.

Kym conveys, "spirit is highly intelligent and will communicate via sign language to her." They always appear as when they felt they looked their best. If they pass after the age of 85 they show Kym a gray wig. If they pass before the age of thirty, they will show her a number. She fondly reflects that "It's like playing charades with the angels." For her, it's like wearing virtual reality glasses because,

“they’ll drop me in the middle of a scene or memory that correlates to their life. It could be their home, a business or a shared memory with the person sitting with me.”

Kym’s ability to work with energy in this manner has even connected her to helping law enforcement solve cold cases nationwide. Kym is able to follow the energy in missing persons cases and even to those who have been murdered in cold blood. Kym uses her abilities to retrace steps, allowing her to see through the victims eyes, “I can describe the scene and what has transpired at that scene and to the victim, it appears to me as a clip of a movie. The victims of these crimes will show me where their bodies currently lie.” Kym worked on the missing person’s case in Hoboken, the mysterious death of Andrew Jarzyk. As she retells the experience, she notes, “He, Andrew, was with me the whole time; communicating with me as he led me the 5 block walk to the Hudson river.”

Kym can be very specific about how people pass and feel the sensations of how they cross over. For instance, if she gets a pain in the back of the head she knows it was an aneurysm. As a Medium, she has experienced death from being hit by a train, shot by a sniper, drowning, and death from quicksand.

While her talent has taken Kym into other people’s worlds and to new heights in her career, the most rewarding part of her ability is being able to help those who are seeking closure and validation. The best part for her is hearing from a client how much healing they found and how much lighter their heart is after sitting with her.

At the very end of our conversation, when I ask Kym about Collingswood and why it’s the place she has chosen to lay her roots, she lights up with a smile. “I grew up in the town of Woodbury Heights, it’s an adorable town but it didn’t have the architecture, downtown, and diversity that Collingswood boasts. I just fell in love with this town and couldn’t wait to move here and that was over 20 years ago.” ■
